

People like myself who travel weekly, rely on the traffic and weather on XM. I do not know the stations in varies cities and would not be influenced by their advertising anyway. Satellite radio is the way of the future and it would be a travesty to limit it.